

PRESS RELEASE

THE INKERMAN GROUP

EX-TASK STUDENTS NOW WORKING IN EGYPT

06 FEBRUARY 2012 THE INKERMAN GROUP announce that ex-TASK students are now working in Egypt with The Inkerman Group.

Students from TASK's latest Close Protection courses have already successfully obtained work with The Inkerman Group, TASK International's parent company.

Graduates from the course held in September last year are part of an extensive deployment in Egypt working with Inkerman Group clients in the region on all aspects of safety awareness, training and protection. The recent graduates, working alongside more experienced team members and CP Team Leaders in-country, are working in increasingly challenging circumstances, as the situation in Cairo continues to develop.

One ex-student commented that "the training from TASK was excellent and I learnt a great deal from exceptional trainers and an extremely rigorous course – it has been a great opportunity to be able to apply so much of what I have learnt in an operational environment so quickly after obtaining my SIA Close Protection Licence."

The Inkerman Group has deployed teams in Egypt and throughout the Middle-East region and has done so increasingly since the beginning of last year as demand for services in the region from European based clients has continued. The HR team at The Inkerman group has confirmed that students graduating from TASK CP Courses will continue to be considered for all operational deployments. Karen Englishby, HR Director for the Group, explains: "Recruiting Close Protection Officers from TASK courses works well for us as a business – we know the level of training and in-depth knowledge which the students are receiving during the training programme, and they are put through their paces during that time by extremely competent and experienced trainers. We believe, as a result, that we get some of the very best graduates on the market."

As a result of demand, TASK will be increasing the number of Close Protection courses it holds during 2012.
