TASK INTERNATIONAL OPENS DOORS TO NEW TRAINING CENTRE IN ASHFORD

TASK International, the specialist security training company has announced that it has invested in a new training centre in Ashford Town Centre, where it will run its internationally renowned courses.

The move to provide a permanent training base for the delivery of its courses is part of TASK International's continued growth and business development. The Company provides a wide range of training services in the security sector and will do so in the UK from its new Ashford training base in Cannon House. It opened its doors to the first delegates in November for the BTEC Close Protection Course which it runs on a regular basis for those looking to start a career in personal executive protection and which also includes the four-day First Person on the Scene (FPOS) qualification.

CEO, Gerald Moor, comments – "The company has developed its course offerings and experienced significant growth over recent months and, as part of its continued drive to attain excellence in service levels it has made this exciting move to its own bespoke training facility in Ashford's Town Centre – a move which provides a great central location, enabling delegates, trainers and local support agencies direct access to its facility."

The premises offers a secure quiet location with ample space for the full range of training services whilst also ensuring that delegates to have immediate access to the local amenities.

The new training facility is located at Cannon House in Bank Street, Ashford Kent.

TASK International offers a wide range of specialist training courses and is delivering courses on an International basis and which are attended by International delegates and service leavers. Courses have also been delivered recently in Libya as part of the company's business expansion and in support of the Libyan people.
