Watching but not panicking

ASHFORD security specialists The Inkerman Group, who have several clients in South Korea, are keeping an eye on what has been happening in North Korea.

The company, based in Elwick Road, offers intelligence and security services to companies across the world.

Operations director Michael Allen, right, said: "What we're currently doing is reviewing a lot of different options including crisis and contingency plans for evacuation.

"Nobody really knows which way he's going to go but if he hit to the north then he'd really be cutting off his nose to spite his face as that's where they get a lot of their income. There's a lot of consensus that he's not going to do anything.

"Our clients are not over-panicking about what's happening. It's business as usual but we're keeping an eye on what's going on."
