Women take competition at the Prestigious Moor Park Golf Day by storm!

Ashford Kent, UK 24 April 2006, The Inkerman Group, a specialist risk, intelligence and investigation company, based in Ashford Kent, has announced that their golf team who included the only women playing in the competition at the prestigious Company of Security Professionals Golf Day at Moor Park Golf Club, took the competition by storm taking all the prominent prizes of the day.

On the heels of their success last year, where they entered the tournament as a women's team for the first time in the long history of the competition, their presence on the course this year proved unbeatable.

Team captain, Shelley Mckevitt, a former Curtis Cup and UK player, who is Office Manager at The Inkerman Group, won the Best Individual (Front 9), with another in the team, Helen Batt, coming in second place. Between them, the team also took the prize for Best Overall Team in the 18-hole Stapleford Competition in a highly competitive field and Claire Aitken won the prize for Longest Drive. The fourth member of the team, Brendan Mckevitt, may have been outnumbered but was also instrumental in the team's performance – an experience he says that he won't forget.

Shelley was very excited with the team's performance on the day "To be the only women playing and to have done so well in the competition is extremely satisfying – we were thrilled and can't wait until next year for the return match!"

The team was there to play in the tournament organised by The Company of Security Professionals as part of their charity annual fund-raising events. Teams from within the security industry competed throughout the day. Gerald Moor, CEO of The Inkerman Group was clearly very impressed and delighted with his team's performance – "I had expected that the team would do well" he said "but on the day they really exceeded all expectations and swept the board. There is no doubt that everyone knew that The Inkerman Group were there and competing on the day."

Team members were Shelley McKeVitt (Captain), Helen Batt, Claire Aitken and Brendan Mckevitt.
